PRAYER BEFORE MASS Almighty and ever-living God, I approach the sacrament of Your only-begotten Son Our Lord Jesus Christ, I come sick to the doctor of life, unclean to the fountain of mercy, blind to the radiance of eternal light, and poor and needy to the Lord of heaven and earth. Lord, in your great generosity, heal my sickness, wash away my defilement, enlighten my blindness, enrich my poverty, and clothe my nakedness. May I receive the bread of angels, the King of kings and Lord of lords, with humble reverence, with the purity and faith, the repentance and love, and the determined purpose that will help to bring me to salvation. May I receive the sacrament of the Lord's Body and Blood, and its reality and power. Kind God, may I receive the Body of Your only-begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, born from the womb of the Virgin Mary, and so be received into His mystical body and numbered among His members. Loving Father, as on my earthly pilgrimage I now receive Your beloved Son under the veil of a sacrament, may I one day see him face to face in glory, who lives and reigns with You for ever. Amen.

LISTEN TO THE WORD

8TH FEBRUARY 2026 - 5TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
Isaiah 58: 6-10 | Psalm 111 | 1 Corinthians 2: 1-5 | Matthew 5: 13-16

Lent is fast approaching. It is early this year, and our thoughts may be turning to how we are going to mark this Lenten season. When we were children, we were often told to give up something, usually something we liked. Times change, and now the current idea is not to give up but to take up during Lent. Today's first reading is very relevant to this idea, especially when we look to help those less fortunate than ourselves.

Isaiah speaks of a vision that establishes a people who are aware of the world in which they live and how they can serve God through serving others. It is an extension of the thought behind the Beatitudes, which we listened to in last week's Gospel. It is a list of practical actions which will benefit those without wealth or power and leads us closer to our loving father. We have the Father's promise: "Then you shall call and the Lord will answer; you shall cry, and He will say, "Here I am". Read this passage carefully, for it can lead you to a new approach as to what you can do to help people during Lent and perhaps for the years to come.

Paul speaks to us of his fears as he journeyed among the nations and spoke of the crucified Christ. He did not come as a powerful orator but as one who wanted to share his faith and help people to change. His purpose was to bring us to faith through the Spirit and power "so that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the Power of God".

Salt was an important mineral in the ancient world when preserving food was necessary in the demanding climate that the people lived in. Jesus calls his disciples "You are the salt of the earth" but warns them that salt can lose its effectiveness if it is not used. He also speaks of a lamp, which if put in a basket becomes useless but raised on a lampstand can provide the light that dispels the darkness. In each of these examples he is reminding the people of the words of Isaiah, for unless we act as God wants us to and use our gifts to help those in need then we are in danger of becoming worthless salt: "no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people's feet".

LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIFTH SUNDAY OF THE YEAR (A)

THE ORDER OF MASS CAN BE FOUND ON PAGE 4 OF THE HYMN BOOK

First Reading

Thus says the Lord:
Is not this the fast that I choose:
to loose the bonds of wickedness,
to undo the straps of the yoke,
to let the oppressed go free,
and to break every yoke?
Is it not to share your bread with the hungry
and bring the homeless poor into your house;
when you see the naked, to cover him,
and not to hide yourself from your own flesh?

Then shall your light break forth like the dawn,
and your healing shall spring up speedily;
your righteousness shall go before you;
the glory of the LORD shall be your rearguard.

Then you shall call, and the LORD will answer;
you shall cry, and he will say, ‘Here I am.’
If you take away the yoke from your midst,
the pointing of the finger, and speaking wickedness,
if you pour yourself out for the hungry
and satisfy the desire of the afflicted, then shall your light rise in the darkness
and your gloom be as the noonday.

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 112(111):4-5. 6-7. 8a, 9. R4a

Response: A light rises in the darkness for the upright.

A light rises in the darkness for the upright;
he is generous, merciful, and righteous.
It goes well for the man who deals generously and lends,
who conducts his affairs with justice.

He will never be moved;
for ever shall the upright be remembered.
He has no fear of evil news;
with a firm heart, he trusts in the LORD.

With a steadfast heart he will not fear.
Open-handed, he gives to the poor;
his justice stands firm for ever.
His might shall be exalted in glory.

Second Reading

1 Corinthians 2:1-5

I, when I came to you, brothers and sisters, did not come proclaiming to you the testimony of God with lofty speech or wisdom. For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness and in fear and much trembling, and my speech and my message were not in plausible words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, so that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the power of God.

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Gospel Verse

I am the light of the world, says the Lord;
whoever follows me will have the light of life.

Isaiah 58:6-10

Gospel

The Lord be with you.
And with your spirit.
A reading from the Holy Gospel according Matthew Glory to you, O Lord.

At that time: Jesus said to his disciples, ‘You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people’s feet.

‘You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. Nor do people light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.’

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Matthew 5:13-16
